PICTURING THE GREATEST: In 1974, photographer Howard L. Bingham followed Muhammad Ali to Zaire for the world heavyweight boxing championship. During their eight-week visit, Bingham chronicled moments public and private, including the boxer's interactions with local villagers, resulting in a series of iconic images that encapsulate the spirit of the irrepressible athlete. The photographer is scheduled to be present at Saturday's opening of "Howard L. Bingham: Rumble in the Jungle," which will feature as many as 40 prints from the famous series. Opens Sat., M+B, 612 N. Almont Drive, West Hollywood. Closes May 31.
