

guardian.co.uk

Taylor Wessing prize at the National Portrait Gallery

Stas, Sentenced for Murder, Juvenile Prison, Russia (2009) by Israel-born photographer Michal Chelbin, from her series Locked. Stas is a 15-year-old inmate of a maximum-security prison in Russia. Chelbin says: 'He was extremely quiet and distant ... I could feel there was an enormous burden on his shoulders. When we finished I learned that he had been sentenced for murder.'

Photograph: Michal Chelbin/National Portrait Gallery